Raging fire damages 11 Bellemore stores

RAGING FIRE destroyed Reese Drugs and the Dollar General Store in Bellemore Village Shopping Center yesterday afternoon and caused heavy damage to nine other stores and shops. ## Fire damage could top $5 million mark

Eyewitnesses discuss cause of Reese fire

Cause of Wednesday's blaze at Reese Drug Store in Bellemore Village Shopping Center is under investigation, but there is a question if the true answer will ever be known.

Early witnesses give conflicting reports of where the fire started, but it is clear the fire began along the north wall, in or near the crafts department.

One witness to the possible cause of the fire is Jennifer Miller, 7-year-old daughter of Arthur and Shirley Miller of Granite City.

Mrs. Miller said Jennifer and an older daughter were browsing at the drug store when the fire broke out. Jennifer, Mrs. Miller relates, was in the toy department when she smelled smoke. Jennifer told her mother that she turned around and saw a male youth lighting cigarettes and throwing them into the yarn.

JENNIFER THEN went to a store clerk and told her what she had seen. By that time, she told her mother, flames in the area where she had seen the boy were reaching the ceiling, and an announcement on the store's speakers advised everyone to leave the store through the rear door. The boy, Jennifer said, ran out of the store through the front door. Mrs. Miller said her daughter described the youth as being 15 or 16 years old with light brown hair, wearing blue jeans, a greenish-brown shirt and a green vest.

DON BLAIR of Granite City said this morning that he was among the first to see the fire and he tried to put it out with a snow shovel. "This little old man came over to the clerk and said, 'You got a fire over here.' I moseyed over and there were two or three things of yarn burning. I grabbed a snow shovel and tried to pull them out, but it got into that dried crafts stuff and things just went up real quick, so I got out. Within 10 minutes, the whole store was gone."

John P. Bosich, 2110 Cottage Ave., had a different story. "I was in the back of Reese's at the time and a woman cashier in front hollered, 'Fire!' I went to the front to look and yelled for a fire extinguisher. The employees had to go to the back room to get one for me. It squirted once or twice and was empty. The employees went to the back to get another and it was empty. If they Losses could top $5 million in a fire that heavily damaged 11 units of the Bellemore Village Shopping Center shortly after 1 p.m. Wednesday, it was informally estimated today.

Starting at Reese's Drug Store—at the southern end of the largest of the center's two structures—wind-borne flames swept northward rapidly, despite firefighters' diligent and often heroic efforts, witnesses said.

THE TASK of quelling the fire required nearly three hours.

Under cloudy skies and with the temperature only slightly above freezing, the blaze caused several injuries and devastated the 30-year-old shopping center, which was the site of a 1980 election campaign talk by soon-to-be President John F. Kennedy.

No specific damage estimates have been made as yet by insurers and the owner of the center, Wolf Construction Co. of St. Louis.

DENSE SMOKE developed quickly and could not be avoided due to strong wind gusts that swirled it around firemen, police and spectators. Ice in some areas made walking difficult and the cold chilled everyone despite the ferocity of the flames.

The worst fire damage was noted in the big Reese store at 3216 Nameoki Road, the adjacent Dollar General Store at 3220, Norwest Financial Co. at 3224 and suites of medical offices at 3228.

Also suffering heavy losses yesterday were Langenstein Insurance Agency at 3230 Nameoki Road, Bellemore Barber Shop at 3232, Bellemore Beauty Shop at 3234, a U.S. Postal Service office at 3242, Hudson Jewelers Ltd. at 3244, the large Gilk's Department Store at 3248 and Shop & Save, a major grocery store at 3250.

SMOKE AND FUMES along with water were major factors in the damage to goods and records. Most of the center was closed this morning but some stores were preparing for early reopenings. City officials offered their cooperation in restoring the busy center to full operation. Even from downtown Granite City and from as far away as Illinois Highway Three it was possible to follow the progress of the fire. Several surges of black smoke were seen during the first hour as flames reached new sections.

Granite City, Madison, Long Lake and Wood River firefighters were at the scene and Mitchell firemen went to the Long Lake station to protect that portion of the local community, with Venice volunteers keeping a watchful eye on both Venice and Madison.

Madison at one point had 18 of its firemen at Bellemore Village, three at the main Granite City fire station and four at the Madison fire station.

WITHIN HOURS of the fire, it was a somber topic at a regular meeting of the City Council.

Granite City aldermen approved a motion at the council meeting last night to set up an ad hoc committee to aid those businesses damaged by the fire.

Alderman Paul Ray Bowler said he would like the committee to help the businesses relocate temporarily and for members to seek low interest loans and federal aid to help the owners rebuild or repair their stores.

"I THINK WE should do anything and everything we can to keep them going," Bowler said.

Mayor Paul Schuler agreed, adding that many of the business affected have been located in Granite City for a long time.

Aldermen extended their appreciation to Granite City firefighters for their work in extinguishing the blaze. They also expressed appreciation to the neighboring fire districts who assisted Granite City firemen.

GRANITE CITY Firemen Leonard Wilson and Phil Heath suffered minor burns requiring emergency treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Mrs. Madge Bradley, a Reese Drug Store clerk, also sustained slight burns and was treated at SEMC. While taking photographs of the fire scene, Alan Gerstenecker of

Group distributes 33 food baskets

Donald Valencia of the Mexican Honorary Commission and chairman of the organization's Christmas basket donations this year, distributed 33 baskets in the Quad-City area for the holiday.

Valencia said the baskets contained meat, dairy products, vegetables, fruit, canned goods, bread and other gifts. Other organizations donating items were the Mexican Honorary Commission Women's Auxiliary and the Lincoln Place Mother's Club.

Crop disaster ruling aids Madison County

Madison County farmers are among those in 34 counties who are eligible to apply for low-interest loans as a result of a Dec. 21 disaster declaration by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Although this county was not one of 16—including Bond County—directly hit by crop loss due to drought in 1984, it is one of 18 affected by a new federal law. The law allows loan requests by farmers in counties adjacent to those declared disaster areas.

Loans can be sought through the Farmers Home Administration up to the amount of loss. A farmer must prove a 30 percent production loss based on the best four of the past five crop years.

If farmers are unable to obtain credit from normal lending sources, they may get FmHA loans at 5 percent up to $100,000 and 8 percent on balances over $100,000. The maximum allowable loan is $500,000.

John 3:16... "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

We may rest assured that God really loves us. Not because of what He said but because of what He did.

He gave his son Jesus. Jesus gave his life. It was love that compelled them to do this for us.

It is true that you can give without love, but it is more true that you cannot love without giving.

Let us be motivated to give because we love. We have freely received, let us freely give.

AUTO STRIKES A TREE, TWO GIRLS ARE INJURED

Lisa H. Deen, 16, of 2409 Wilson Ave., and a passenger in her car, Lori D. Deen, 12, of the same address, sustained injuries in a one-car accident and were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center early this week.

Reports said the Deen car was turning left from Westchester Drive into Frontenac Lane when the driver apparently lost control and struck a tree in front of 2 Frontenac.

REPORTS AUTO STOLEN

Bellemore Burns!

SPECTACULAR FIRE. Millions of dollars of property and 11 businesses in Bellemore Village Shopping Center were destroyed or damaged Wednesday afternoon as a fire swept through the single level plaza. The fire, which is believed to have been started in the crafts department of Reese Drug Store, took little time to engulf the locally-owned drug store and spread quickly through more than half of the adjacent businesses to the north. All businesses in the plaza were affected, either by the fire itself or by the ensuing smoke. Beginning at top left and going clockwise, two Granite City firefighters early on battle an enormous cloud of smoke as well as the Reese's fire. Near the end as firefighters began to win their battle over the blaze, a Madison firefighter rests to clear his lungs and enjoy a hot cup of coffee. Wood River firemen, the fifth department to respond, lay fire hose as they attempt to help. Onlookers gather on the west side of Nameoki Road to view the spectacular blaze. As fire and smoke billow skyward, Granite City firefighters attempt to extinguish the Reese Drug fire early in their battle.

Madison NAACP re-elects Wilson

The Madison Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has re-elected the Rev. Harold Wilson Sr. of Venice, a Madison County sheriff's deputy for the past 11 years, as president for a second term.

Other officers elected to lead the Madison Branch in 1985 are:

Viola Lewis, first vice-president; Deherra Lowery, secretary; W.E. Dennis, recording secretary; Oliver Mason, treasurer; and Helen R. King, membership chairman.

More than 300 individuals are members of the local branch. The annual election was held at the new Friendship Baptist Church, located at Meredocia and Calhoun avenues in Venice.

Rev. Wilson's priority objective during his second term in office will be a "continuing voter registration drive," he said this week.

He noted that a campaign conducted in recent months to register new voters in this area was very successful and showed its effects in Madison County during the Nov. 6 general election.

Rev. Wilson is assistant pastor of New Hope Fellowship Church in Edwardsville, which serves the Alton and Edwardsville areas.

He was ordained into the Illinois District of the Assemblies of God in services at Calvary Temple Church in Springfield in May 1983.

The minister joined the U.S. Army in 1965 and completed para-trooper training and other instruction as a helicopter technician prior to being assigned to the 101st Airborne Division.

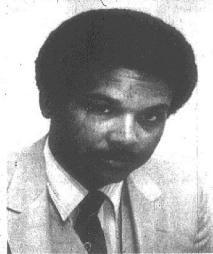

He served tours of duty in the Far East, Africa and for a time at the American Embassy in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

Rev. Wilson worked for General Motors Corp., St. Louis, and the U.S. Post office from 1968 to 1973.

He joined the Madison County Sheriff's Department 11 years ago and is assigned to the patrol division.

While employed as a deputy sheriff, he has earned a master's degree in Education with emphasis in Counseling from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

He is the first black deputy sheriff in the history of the county department.

REV. HAROLD WILSON

ment to earn a master's degree and only the third person to attain such a degree among department employees.

Rev. Wilson also holds a bachelor's degree in the Administration of Justice from McKendree College in Lebanon and an associate degree in Law Enforcement from Belleville Area College.

The NAACP Branch president also serves as chairman of the Venice Consumer Utilities Board.

He and his wife, Lois, and their three children reside in Venice.

Mrs. King announced that membership renewals are due in January and the group is actively seeking new members.

The Madison NAACP branch will continue to meet on the first Monday of each month at 7 p.m. at the Friendship Baptist Church. The first meeting of the New Year will take place Jan. 7.

Chouteau opens bids

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

A bid from Thiems Construction Co., Edwardsville, to begin work on the first phase of the drainage improvements to the Long Lake Park development in Chouteau Township was accepted by the Chouteau Town Board of Trustees last week.

The specifications are for work to include construction of ditches, removal and replacement of driveway culverts and construction of a 24-inch storm sewer within two separate divisions.

Division One—Rapp Road and construction of 24-inch storm sewer is the first stage of the proposed project, and Division Two—Lakeview Drive will be the next step in an effort to alleviate the standing water in that area.

The trustees agreed to hire the Edwardsville firm for the first division and, because of a lack of funds, will have to wait until they can award a contract for the second phase.

Payment of the engineer's fee and cost of the construction work will be made through Community Development Funds. The township has a total of $48,000 from which to draw, but included in this amount is the engineer's charge of $14,000.

This leaves the township with $34,000 to pay for the initial work.

Bids read during the meeting were from Barton Construction, Inc., of $35,045 for Division One and $49,502 for Division Two, totaling $84,547.

Thiems' bid was $24,385 for Division One and $22,477 for Division Two, with a total of $56,862.

However, the trustees chose to use concrete culverts instead of the corrugated piping, increasing the total to $1,490.

Other bids included, Kuberski Excavating: Division One, $29,823, and Division Two, $38,942, for a total of $68,765.

Also, C.D. Peters Construction Co., Division One, $28,041, Division Two, $36,033 totaling $64,074.

Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks said the work should commence the first of February, after all legal paper work is completed. This will depend on the weather conditions, he added.

Although Trustee Steve Novose repeatedly inquired if there were any other funds the township could use for the entire project, it was decided the board would research other avenues of money before agreeing to sign a contract for the second part of the drainage program.

Seniors handicraft workshops in Venice

A series of craft workshops is being scheduled, starting Monday, Jan. 7, at the Venice Senior Citizens' Community Center, Klein and Brown streets, Venice. It was announced today by Helen R. King.

The workshop classes will be held daily, Monday through Friday, between the hours of 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., Mrs. King said.

Various handicraft projects will be instructed, including ceramics, quilting, sewing and making hats and flowers.

Different instructors will teach the various craft sessions, it was noted. "Let us do things with our minds and hands," Mrs. King commented, adding that all Venice seniors are invited to take part in the program.

Grand jurors outline assessment cuts

Special grand jurors' indictment lists 14 instances between July 1, 1982, and Jan. 18, 1984, in which property assessments for individuals or businesses were lowered without the proper Board of Review hearing.

In several of the cases, the indictment specifically alleges that money was exchanged for the lower assessments.

CHARGED in the indictment are Supervisor of Assessments James Barton; Gerald Bassett, a former employee in Barton's office, Merle Bassett, an Alton attorney who is Gerald's father; Fred Finck, a member of the Madison County Board of Review; Robert Quinn, an Alton lawyer, and Beverly Delaney, Quinn's secretary.

A previous indictment Sept. 21 against Barton, Finck and the Bassetts was dismissed and most of those counts were incorporated in the new indictment Dec. 19.

With the exception of Quinn, none of the individuals or firms allegedly given lower assessments were indicted.

THE INDICTMENT says assessments were illegally reduced by Barton and Gerald Bassett for the following:

— Al-Ham (Albrecht Chevrolet) in Wood River Township, 1982 assessments.

— Dave Croft's auto dealership in Collinsville, assessments reduced in 1980-1983, with money alleged to have changed hands for the reductions in 1980 and 1983.

— George Major McGlasson, two parcels in Wood River reduced for 1982 assessments; three parcels reduced for 1983 assessments, with $300 allegedly paid to a Barton defense fund for the latter.

— Robert Quinn, two parcels in Wood River reduced for 1982 assessments, parcels reduced for 1983 assessments in Wood River and Godfrey townships, and $200 given to a defense fund created for Barton to defend him against a 1982 charge.

— CLYDE HUTTON, two parcels reduced in Wood River for 1982 assessments.

— Gene Daughettee (Gene's Chrysler-Plymouth), the dealership's 1982 assessment in Wood River reduced.

— Kienstra, Inc. (Frank Haynes), one parcel in Wood River reduced for 1982 assessments.

— Richard Bell, two parcels in Wood River reduced for 1982 assessments.

— Lee Realty Co., three parcels in Wood River reduced for 1982 assessments.

— Mike McClintock, one parcel in Wood River reduced for 1982 assessments.

— Ray Ward, real estate in Godfrey reduced for 1982 assessments.

— James Ciccarelli, 1983 assessments reduced for property in Wood River.

— Wegman Electric, 1983 assessments in Wood River reduced.

— W. M. MEAD, 1983 assessment on property in Wood River reduced.

IN ACTIONS which authorities said helped break the case, William Robertson gave a contribution to Barton's defense fund in exchange for reduction of 1983 assessments on Robertson's residence in Godfrey and his auto dealership in Alton.

After Robertson's lawyer, William Carter, was approached by one of the defendants, Carter and Robertson notified authorities, it is contended.

Carter then cooperated in the investigation and is given credit for helping gain evidence in the case against some of the defendants.

Quinn is accused of arranging to pay $200 in exchange for a reduced assessment by allegedly asking his secretary to write the check and then reimbursing her and telling her to lie about it to the grand jury. His secretary is accused of making the payment and of lying to jurors.

BRUCE D. LOCHER, the special prosecutor, said the assessments probe is now over.

But he said he could present evidence to another grand jury in the future if warranted by new information.

No benzene-leukemia link found at area refinery

A recently completed second follow-up health study at Shell's Wood River manufacturing complex does not link benzene exposure at the refinery to the excess leukemia deaths among employees and retired employees, according to a company spokesman. The study was conducted by Dr. Philip Cole, doctor of public health at the University of Alabama, Birmingham. "In July of last year, an occupational health study revealed that over a 10-year period, there were six more cases of acute myeloid, one form of leukemia, than might be expected based on U.S. population statistics," said Dr. P. E. Joyner, Shell's corporate medical director. "We immediately began an exhaustive benzene exposure study because benzene exposure at high levels has been linked to acute myeloid leukemia," Joyner said. Completed in February of this year, the benzene exposure study did not establish a causal relationship between benzene exposure and the development of acute myeloid leukemia. Since the follow-up benzene exposure study, the company has been seeking to find out through a second follow-up, case-control study, if jobs or departments in Wood River are a factor in the excess leukemia cases, and if those who developed leukemia were exposed to more benzene than those who did not develop the disease. In a case-control study, researchers study people with the disease (cases) as well as people who are free from that disease (controls). The case-control study concluded that there were no distinctly positive results for benzene, and the reasons for the excess leukemia among the Wood River refinery workers remains unexplained," Joyner said. "We have conducted two very comprehensive epidemiological studies using nationally known authorities as consultants," Joyner said. "Based on what is known about present levels of benzene exposure and leukemia, we feel there is no current risk from benzene at Wood River. We are reviewing whether other types of studies could be done to explain the excess leukemias. We are continuing to update our industrial hygiene and medical surveillance programs and to collect and evaluate incidence and mortality data on Wood River employees and retirees."

At the same time, Shell at Wood River will continue its ongoing program to promote safety through employee awareness, improved safety and handling procedures, engineering controls and use of personal protective equipment. Shell is continuing to keep its employees informed and is providing detailed information to the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration and the Environmental Protection Agency, the spokesman said.

Coping with holiday blues

Coronary Clubs

Many people experience what doctors refer to as the holiday blues, which include Christmas and can last through the New Year's holiday. During this time, people have a particular problem dealing with depression and loneliness. Luckily, there are several ways to alleviate these blue feelings.

1. Stop feeling sorry for yourself. Focus on those things in life which make you happy and list them. These can be such things as friends, places, hobbies or organizations you were or in which you would like to be involved.
2. Devise a holiday schedule or daily routine. With a fixed schedule, there will not be enough time for the blues to work their way into your life. You will be too busy enjoying yourself.
3. Participate in activities that encourage interaction with other people. This could include attending parties, going out for dinner or just having one or two friends over for an evening.
4. Plan a trip. Perhaps there is an area or a friend you have wanted to visit for a long time. Or, instead of a long vacation, plan a trip of two or three days. Many times, short trips are more satisfying than long ones.
5. Exercise daily during the holidays. Physical activity is always important, no matter what the occasion.
6. Learn how to enjoy doing things alone. This could include hobby (such as crocheting, knitting, woodcarving, ceramics or cooking), reading, or visiting the Art Museum, Shaw's Gardens or your favorite shop.

If the weather is pleasant, take a short walk and enjoy the scenery. There really are beautiful things to see if you just take the time.

7. Relax and listen to your favorite music. Like the old saying, "Music hath charms to soothe," or to get rid of the blues. Music has a tendency to help people escape to a fantasy world even if just for a short period of time.

8. If something is bothering you and you do not want to discuss it openly, write it down. Taking notes helps get those bad feelings out of your system.

The worst thing a person can do is keep hostile feelings bottled up inside. And if you do not consciously find a way of getting rid of these feelings, your body will do so in the form of muscular tension, headaches, stomach problems or depression, to name but a few.

The holidays are meant to be a time spent at leisure activities, free from work and worry. Take advantage of this time and do those things you really like to do. Do not allow the holiday blues to creep into your life, the local Coronary Club urges.

Veterans' benefits increase next year

Congress has recently approved a 3.2 percent cost-of-living increase in the rates of compensation paid to over two million disabled veterans, according to Representative Sam Wolf.

— "The Veterans' Benefits Improvement Act of 1984 will also provide a 3.2 percent increase in dependency and indemnity compensation rates for surviving spouses and children of veterans who die from service-connected causes," Wolf said.

According to Wolf, the new benefits include the following:

— A 10 percent cost-of-living increase in Vietnam-era GI benefits effective Oct. 1, 1984;

— A two-year extension of the Veterans Readjustment Appointment Program, designed to enable Vietnam-era and disabled veterans to obtain federal employment;

— An extension of the Emergency Veterans' Job Training Program's four-year program to provide education and vocational training for younger veterans on the pension rolls, geared toward placing these veterans back into productive jobs. Eligible veterans will now have through Feb. 28, 1985, to apply for job training;

— An increase in specially adapted housing grants from $32,500 to $35,500 effective Jan. 1, 1985;

— An increase in the automobile adaptive equipment grant from $4,400 to $5,000 effective Jan. 1, 1985; (The housing and automobile grants are for severely-disabled service-connected veterans)

— For a two-year period retroactive to Oct. 1, 1984, veterans possibly exposed to agent Orange may receive a disability allowance if they developed chloracne or the liver condition porphyria cutanea tarda (PCT) within a year of leaving the war theater;

— The Veterans Health Care Act of 1984 will provide improved and expanded treatment services for Vietnam veterans suffering from Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD);

— A version of Congressman Montgomery's peacetime G.I. Bill as part of the educational assistance package at Title VII of the Defense Authorization Act was finally cleared through Congress.

— "The new version of the education-assistance program is a good start toward better retention of active-duty military in the face of a rapidly declining population of eligible recruits," Wolf concluded.

Cause of Reese fire

(the fire extinguishers) had been out, I would have put that fire out. I got two or three little squirts. That's all. It was just like gasoline. It went—15 seconds at the most," he said.

Bosch said he thought the fire was in some Christmas decorations near the north front door, but said he was not sure what was burning. He said the city should take steps to see that in stores such as Reese's, the fire extinguishers are not far away in a back room and are full. "The fire extinguishers should have been right there, on the wall, and should have been checked," he contended.

POLICE FIRST received a call of possible smoke at the Mr. Donut store, about a block away. While they were investigating, an officer heard what he thought was an explosion and noticed dense smoke blowing across Nameoki Road, obstructing the vision of motorists. Firefighters then were called to Bellemore Village at 1:10 p.m. Wednesday.

Rosa Miller was only at the halfway point in her visit to the beauty shop and was sitting under a dryer in the Bellemore Beauty Salon, located inside the arcade at the shopping center, when a man came in and told those inside that the place was on fire and it had started in Reese Drugs.

"We didn't know who the man was and we really didn't believe him," Mrs. Miller said about 4 p.m. Wednesday.

SIX WOMEN, including three patrons, two employees and the owner, Sylvia McGraw, were in the salon at the time.

"The same man came back into the shop a second time and told us the fire was coming straight down the shopping center and that we were going to get asphyxiated if we didn't get out," Mrs. Miller said. "They started grabbing rollers out of my hair, but before we could leave, smoke already was coming down the hall (arcade) and from the back of the beauty shop. It was terrible (smoke) and seemed to be coming through the walls and from the restroom area."

MRS. MILLER, 2332 E. 24th St., a private duty nurse, first went to check on a lady for whom she is caring and then called Karen Perrigo at Carlene's Beauty Salon, 23rd and State streets.

Mrs. Perrigo told her to come into the shop and she would gladly finish styling her hair.

Mrs. Miller believed she heard an explosion after getting out of the Bellemore salon and could see flames shooting out of the Reese store and "a lot of thick black smoke," she said.

AS FIREMEN scurried around Reese's and bystanders shivered in the cold, Janet Partney "sat in Strawberry Hill Creamery, reflecting on how close she came to being in the drug store when the fire broke out."

"I came in to get some ice cream," she related. "In fact, I hadn't been in here 15 minutes. I saw people looking (toward Reese's), and I thought that someone must have had a heart attack."

Mrs. Partney said she was leaving the creamery to go to Reese's to buy some cough drops when she saw the fire. "I saw flames and glass flying, and I started screaming and my daughter started screaming."

BUT ACTIVITY in the parking lot, she noted, was practically nonexistent. "There were a few people standing around looking. I didn't see anyone leave the store. I don't know if they came out the back. The whole front (of the store) was on fire."

"I'm so grateful I came here (to the creamery) first, instead of there. In a matter of 10, 15 minutes, I just can't believe it. It just seemed like it went up so quickly," she said.

Mrs. Partney owns Strawberry Hill, which, although in the southern section of shopping center, was relatively safe from the fire due to northerly winds.

JOE GLIK, owner of Bellemore Glik's, was not as fortunate. He spoke only a few words as he watched the flames travel closer to his property.

"I'm keeping my fingers crossed," he told reporters as the fire neared the firewall that separated his store from stores already in flames. Glik's store already had suffered extensive smoke damage. He estimated that about 35 employees had been evacuated from the shop. The store's inventory, he noted, was worth about a $500,000.

His son, Bob Glik, said it was fortunate that the new line of spring clothing for all 15 Glik's stores had not arrived here. The Bellemore store is the central receiving location for all of the stores.

HAD THE SPRING line been in, the loss could have been several million dollars, he said.

"We lucked out. No ifs or buts about it. The fire wall (between the arcade and Hudson's Ltd.) saved us. They (the firefighters) didn't know if they could stop it, but they kept fighting and stopped it at our store. They did a tremendous job," Bob Glik said this morning.

He said the store will reopen as soon as possible. "We have a light layer of soot over everything. I guess we'll have a heck of a smoke sale."

HARRY DORTCH, manager of the Bellemore Reese store, told the Press-Record that he was out of town when the fire started and that firefighters wouldn't let him close enough to the building to determine the circumstances of the fire.

He said one of the 12 or 13 employees in the store was burned in the fire. He made no estimate of the loss suffered in the fire.

Dortch also didn't know the cause of the fire.

THE MANAGER of Shop 'N Save said his store will be closed indefinitely until it will reopen when it is cleaned up.

Simon appoints task force to improve the state's economy

In a move to deliver on a pledge to help bring jobs to Illinois, Senator-elect Paul Simon (D-Ill.), this week appointed several top aides he will put to work building up the state's economy, a spokesman said.

Simon will field a three-member "Economic Development Task Force" that will work with Illinois' senior senator, Alan Dixon (D), and with local governments, state officials, business and education leaders in formulating and carrying out economic development projects throughout the state. The unit will approach its duties in team fashion, focusing strengths from several Simon offices on getting the job done. The task force will draw on other Simon staff specialists as needed.

Simon explained that the task force's duties will include shepherding federal grants through agency channels, cutting red tape for businesses and overseeing relevant congressional legislation. But he said he will also use it to generate new ideas and approaches to help get Illinois' economy moving forward.

The Illinois lawmaker is allocating an unusually large share of his staff resources to economic development. "This month, a theme he has sounded repeatedly, the spokesman said, Simon outlined some of his economic development strategy earlier this month on a statewide tour that included dozens of visits with Illinois business, civic and labor groups.

"The response to my emphasis on economic growth, and to ideas like the task force, was universally good," said Simon. "There is an overwhelming consensus that Illinois' economic future can be a bright one, but getting there will require a great deal of work."

Myself and staff wish you the best for the upcoming year.

An Italian dinner that yielded two keepsakes

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

The American League baseball race went right down to the wire in deciding the 1984 championship. Battling for their one and only league championship, the late St. Louis Browns were in a life and death struggle with the Detroit Tigers for the right to face the Cardinals in the World Series.

Built series, in that last year before the end of World War II in Europe and the Pacific, were eight-club loops. Many of the major league stars were in service — the Army, Navy, Marines and Coast Guard. But, the caliber of competition was, nevertheless, still extremely high and fiercely competitive with veterans enjoying additional years of play.

meal prepared by Mrs. Venditto. Darner served as the dinner's master of ceremonies. A goodly number of the Italian community of the Tri-Cities were on hand: the Lucidos, the Lombardis, Pettilios, et al, and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Dobbin of St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Hughes and Mrs. William Ritchie of Highland. Mrs. Lee Harris of daughter, Patty Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walker of E. St. Louis and Granite Cityans Art Grimm, Carl Wiesmann, Guy Cooper, Fritz Venditto, Mrs. Murray Ahlers and Mrs. Sam Venditto.

After the dinner, Darner presented Mrs. Venditto, who had outdone herself with the food, with a pair of baseballs—one autographed by all the members of the Browns and one by the Yankees.

After the dinner, Darner presented Mrs. Venditto, who had outdone herself with the food, with a pair of baseballs, one autographed by all the members of the Browns and one by the Yankees.

The final four games of the 1944 American League season, however, the Browns and the still very powerful New York Yankees were scheduled for the tiny and cozy Sportman's Park facility on North Grand.

It boiled down to this — the Browns had to sweep all four games to assure themselves the American League crown.

The four-game series was slated to get underway Sept. 29 with a pair of games, to be followed by single contests the final two days of the campaign.

Granite City, like most of the rest of the United States, was pulling for the Browns to win it all. The No. 1 cheerleader of the Granite City fans was the late Dr. Leslie Darner, M.D.

Dr. Darner was not only an avid Brownie fan but he was on a first-name basis with most of the famous Yankees, and the Cardinals, too.

There was an "open date" before the crucial four-game series began.

Darner went into high gear and invited the members of both the Browns and the Yankees to come over to Granite City for an Italian dinner the night before the series opened. He asked his friend, Marie Venditto, widow of Tony and grandmother of Granite Cityan Candy Thompson, to prepare the dinner. She agreed to.

A long-time operator of the famed Belle Vista eatery-nightclub in Mitchell, Momma Venditto was nationally famous for her Italian cuisine.

Every member of the Browns and Yanks showed up for the

Marie Venditto

Hank Borowy, Tom Henrich, Buddy Rosar, Art (Tiny) Bonham, Spud Chandler, Frank Crossetti, Bud Haskell, Joe Gordon, Red Rolfe, Johnny Murphy and Marius Russo.

The names of the Browns' were Fred Hoffman, Al Hollingsworth, George McQuinn, Luke Sewell, Eldon Auker, Zack Taylor, Red McQuinn, Don Heffner, Steve Sundra, Dan Strop, George Caster, Mike Chartak, John Niggeling, Rick Ferrell, Denny Galehouse, Bob Muncrief, Nelson Potter, Chet Laabs, Vernon (Junior) Stephens, Walter Judnick, Harland Cliff, Frank Hayes, Don Guttridge, Tay Harris, and Jerry Ciscola.

Laabs was the hitting star for the Browns in the crucial four-game series with the Yankees. He blasted out two, two-run home runs.

In checking out the names on the two baseballs, Ben Henkey, who formerly worked on the staff at the Press-Record but has been a long time employee of the Sporting News, was called on to help out.

It was Henkey who first cast doubt on the fact that the Yankee Clipper, Joe DiMaggio, had signed the New York ball. His doubts were confirmed when the records showed the DiMaggio was, in fact, in the armed services in 1944.

Then, you ask, why was his name on the baseball?

There's a simple explanation. Then, as now, baseball clubs buy up baseballs in gross lots and the players on the regular roster sign up many hundreds of balls in advance for just such an occasion as the Granite City dinner.

DiMaggio's signature, then, must have been written on the ball sometime during the 1943 season.

Mrs. Thompson and her sons have been asked to "loan" the balls to be displayed at the museum at Bush Stadium in downtown St. Louis. And, they have agreed to do so.

secutive win this season. (See related story.)

FOR THE rest of the area sports teams — Granite City's and Madison — they begin today, just about the time the Press-Record began rolling off the presses this morning, the Trojans were taking to the hardwood in their first-round game of the 16-team Collinsville Holiday Basketball Tournament.

The three-day tourney will continue through Saturday with the championship game slated for 8:30 p.m. at the Vergil Fletcher Gymnasium.

Madison went against Springfield-Griffin at 10:30 a.m. while the Warrior basketball team is set to take on another Springfield team later this evening. Springfield-Southeast at 7 p.m.

The Trojans enter the tournament with a 2-2 record while the Warriors, after playing one more game, are 3-3.

BUT IF basketball's not your game, and if you like something of an individual sport while providing a little more contact, the other tournament's for you.

Beginning at 11 a.m. today, the Warriors will host their 24th Annual Holiday Wrestling Tournament.

And, it's going to be a big one. Not only will 16 of the best wrestling teams from both Illinois and Missouri be represented in the annual wrestling extravaganza, but the Warriors — the local guys — are undefeated going in. That's right, they haven't lost yet. Not a dual meet. Not a triangular. Not even a quadrangular.

AS MENTIONED the first session gets underway this morning at 11. That includes the first qualifying round and the first six (80-135 pounds) classes of the second round.

The second qualifying round will begin later today at 6 p.m. That round will include the remaining six second-round matches (138-heavyweight) and AAA of the third round.

And if you haven't gotten your fill of wrestling on Thursday, there's a lot more where that came from on Friday. Beginning with the same time schedule as on Thursday, the first championship round will begin on Friday at 11 a.m. Semi-final and first-round consolation bouts are estimated to begin at 1:30 p.m. with the consolation semi-finals getting underway at 3 p.m.

THE FINAL and championship session will begin after supper, at 6 p.m. Beginning on just two mats, the fifth-place bouts will begin promptly at 6 p.m.

The introduction of athletes competing in the championship and consolation bouts will begin at 7:15 p.m. with the actual bouts beginning at 7:15 p.m.

Tickets for each of the four sessions is $2.

AUTOGRAPHED KEEPSAKES. Jerry (left) and Jeff proudly display their two baseballs autographed by members of the 1944 St. Louis Browns and the New York Yankees. Among the autographs on the balls are "Jitin" Joe DiMaggio and Lefty Gomez. The baseballs were gifts to the two youths grandmother for a dinner she prepared for both teams during the '44 playoff series. (Press-Record Photo by Patrick Foley)

Freeburg Tournament Devils are first-round winners

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

FREEBURG — One day at a time. That's the strategy for the Venice Red Devils in this year's Freeburg-Columbia Holiday Tournament. The Red Devils accomplished the goal Wednesday with a 70-53 win over the Marissa Meteors to advance into today's 5:30 p.m. game.

The Red Devils have dominated the tourney since it began in 1965, carting home the championship trophy 11 of 19 years. And although the Red Devils have won the past two years, Venice coach Clinton Harris takes an ever-so-cautious outlook for his undefeated squad.

"WE'RE NOT looking past anybody," said Harris, sitting on the bench prior to Wednesday's game. "Some people are talking about us and McKinley getting together, but I don't look at it that way. We've got to take it one game at a time. We've got to get past these guys (Marissa) first."

The Meteors put up a gallant fight against Venice in the first half, keeping Venice down to a 10-7 lead after the first quarter. Both teams doubled their output in the second stanza for a 30-21 halftime score.

"We did look that good," complained Harris. "I'm not the only one who sees it that way."

"I THINK the long layoff might have affected us. We hadn't played a game since St. Paul on Tuesday (Dec. 18)."

The Red Devils weren't without their practice, however. The team managed to work out a couple of hours on Christmas.

"We had off Thursday and Friday, then came back and practiced Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday," said Harris.

The Venice players appeared anxious to end the practices and start the game Wednesday — perhaps too anxious. Harris had to switch from a man-to-man press to a zone press in the second quarter when his players were getting into foul trouble.

THE MOVE reduced the problem, as the Red Devils ended the game with 16 fouls. Although Charles Milton was the lone Venice player to foul out, over-aggressiveness and tight officiating only spells trouble for Venice's future games.

"We're just going to have to learn to adjust our style," said the Venice coach. "We're going to have to stop reaching in. I want to be aggressive, but not too aggressive."

Jesse Hall finished as the contest's leading scorer with 28 points. Hall dumped in 13 of those points during the final quarter as Venice upped their lead to a 17-point margin.

HALL's highlight came in the second quarter when the 6-foot-2 sophomore drove downcourt on a fast break and scored on a slam dunk. The move put Venice ahead, 21-15, as Marissa immediately called timeout to regroup.

"It gets the crowd excited and the team charged up, but that's all," said Harris, downplaying the slam. "It's still only worth two points, no matter how it goes in the basket."

Harris said he was impressed with the performance of Vincent Harris, who finished the game with 12 points.

"This is his second game back since he broke his finger," said the Venice coach, who is not related to the player. "He was four-for-six at the free-throw line against St. Paul (last week). Free throws are what won the game for us."

AN EFFECTIVE press seemed to be the key for Venice in Wednesday's game. But the Red Devils didn't use it to full advantage as they turned the ball right back on bad passes during several fast breaks.

"We just weren't taking any time," said Harris. "We wanted to score, but we just weren't taking any time."

Despite the offensive mistakes, Harris was encouraged by his team's defense.

"The press helped us out in the second quarter, and even more in the third," said Harris. "We wanted to score, but we just weren't taking any time."

For Marissa, Kevin Triefenbach led his team with 18 points. Mark Trost and Charlie Loewen each had 11.

THE NEXT team to take on Venice will be Carrollton in a 5:30 p.m. contest today. If the Red Devils win, they'll likely be facing the McKinley Gold Bugs in the semi-finals at 7 p.m. Friday. If the Red Devils lose today, they'll be playing at 4 p.m. Friday in the fifth-place bracket.

The fifth-place final begins at 4 p.m. Saturday, while the third-place final starts at 7 p.m. and the championship gets underway at 8:30 p.m.

"I don't have a crystal ball," said Harris. "I can't predict the future." Instead, the Red Devils are taking things one day at a time.

Defending National Champions SIUE matmen take a breather

EDWARDSVILLE — The wrestling Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will take some time off to enjoy the holidays before resuming their drive at a second consecutive NCAA Division II national championship.

The Cougars, who have won their last five dual matches, will head into the home stretch of their championship drive beginning Jan. 2 when they host a double-dual match against Arizona State University and Morgan State University.

The Cougars, who ended California State-Bakersfield's five-year reign as NCAA-II champions last year, concluded the 1984 portion of their schedule last weekend by sweeping the team field at the Northern Illinois University Huskie Dual Tournament and running their record to 10-2.

At Northern Illinois, the Cougars pounded out a 42-6 victory over Kent State University, a 30-10 decision over the University of Minnesota, a 42-10 victory over Augustana (Ill.) College, and a decisive 43-9 win over Ohio State.

The Cougars also appear to be on the right track for the NCAA-II championships, individually. Booker Benford, the defending 177-pound champion, is currently sporting a 22-1 record and is the number-one-ranked wrestler in the collegiate ranks, according to the Amateur Wrestling News.

The Cougars' other defending champions, Tim Wright (118 pounds) and Ernie Badger (190 pounds), have also jumped out to a good start in 1984-85, posting a 19-2 and 14-5 record, respectively.

Three-time All-American Al Sears has also posted 20 wins in his first 23 matches, including 16 victories by pins. SIUE's other three returning All-Americans, Steve Stearns (126 pounds), Alan Grammer (134 pounds), and Maurice Brown (142 pounds) have a combined record of 54-14-0.

Me wrestler, you Jane

Rickety, rickety, ree-Grab 'em by the knee. Rickety, rickety, rack. Catch 'em by the back.

That's wrestling, folks. There's a lot of grabbing that goes on. It's an intimate sport.

Too intimate, in fact, for high school coach Robert Foti in Milwaukee recently. When the opposing team entered a girl in the 110-pound class, Foti pulled his male wrestler, forfeiting the match.

Foti said such a match could end up in sexual abuse. He wanted no part of it and neither did his wrestlers. Aw, shucks, coach.

'Tis the season... for holiday, basketball and wrestling tournaments?

That's right sports fans. Basketball and wrestling tournaments.

The wrapping paper may just have gone out with the trash and you may not have gotten the chance to put all your gifts away yet, but ready or not, 'tis the tourney season.

One Quad-City area high school team — the Venice High Devils — has begun the tourney season already Wednesday afternoon.

When most of Granite City's attention was focused on the Belleme Village fire, the Devils were doing a little burning of their own as they blazed and then extinguished the Marissa Meteors 70-53 in the first round of the Freeburg Holiday Tournament. It was the Devils' and Coach Clinton Harris' eighth con-

Kindle, Slecka, Wyrostek GC athletes spark MacMurray gridders

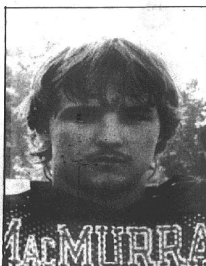

JACKSONVILLE — The sudden success enjoyed by MacMurray College in its first season of football can be directly traced to 10 St. Louis-area players who occupied starting assignments for the Fighting Highlanders this fall.

Competing at the junior varsity level, MacMurray swept past all eight of its opponents in a gridiron debut that set the stage for the start of varsity competition in 1985. MacMurray's Robin Cooper vows his club will be ready for an even greater challenge next fall when play begins in the NCAA's Division III.

Cooper reached into the ranks of Metro-East and St. Louis area football talent to stock his first-ever club at MacMurray — a small, liberal arts college in Jacksonville, 90 miles north of St. Louis.

Starting members of the offensive unit for the Highlanders included tailback Reese Wilson of Edwardsville, fullback John Kindle of Granite City, center Don Bamert of Jennings High School in suburban St. Louis, guard Chip Bamert of Duchesne High School in St. Peters, Mo., and split end Kip Stevenson of Roxana High School.

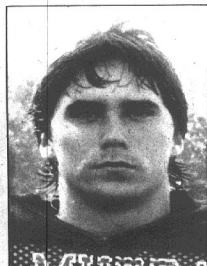

An equal display of area talent was in evidence for MacMurray on defense. Starters included defensive backs Manuel Ellison of Alton and dob Connors of Breese Mater Dei, linebacker John Slecka of Granite City, and tackle Keith Hausman of Bethalto's Civic Memorial.

Other prominent contributors to the squad's highly successful first season were kicker Sean Wyrostek of Granite City and back-up fullback Bill Barnard of Roxana. Except for Connors, who is a sophomore, all of the St. Louis area players are freshmen. They comprise the most sizable geographic group of athletes on the 45-member football squad. Wilson, a 5-10, 180-pound speedster, was the club's top rusher and leading scorer. He totaled 693 net yards on 106 carries, good for a per-game average of 86.6 yards. Wilson tallied 10 of his team-high 11 touchdowns on the ground, including three for 60 yards or more.

Kindle was a durable performer at fullback as he rushed for 413 yards on 79 carries, for an average of 51.6 yards. He also scored twice and was an excellent blocker. Barnard added 179 on 32 carries, including one of 45 yards for a touchdown against Augustana in a 35-12 MacMurray win.

Ellison was a category leader in two areas on defense for the Highlanders. He grabbed a club-high three interceptions and was the leading solo tackler on the team with 21. Connors moved into a starter's role in mid-season and responded with a pair of interceptions along with six solo and 16 tackle assists. Slecka sparked an excellent corps of MacMurray linebackers, recording 25 assists and 10 solo tackles to go with a pair of sacks. It took three games for Wyrostek to make his presence felt as a starter, but when he did, the soccer-style specialist drilled 17 of 21 point-after tries. He also connected on a 22-yard field goal in the waning minutes against Culver-Stockton to supply the winning points in an 18-17 decision.

Wyrostek

Cooper, who guided Springfield (Ill.) Griffin High School into the state playoffs from 1979-83, took on the new job at MacMurray last March. His early decision to focus on the St. Louis area for available football talent paid an early dividend in 1984.

With a full year of recruiting ahead, Cooper said he fully expects to keep his sights, and those of his assistants, focused squarely on Metro-East high schools as well as those on the Missouri side in St. Louis and its suburbs. It's a road MacMurray and Cooper plan to stay on as they attempt to sustain the new-found gridiron success in 1985 at the varsity level.

The tournament began this morning at 9 a.m. Along with the Warriors, who play their first game at 7 p.m., the Madison Trojans will be competing in the Kahoks' tourney. Action will continue through Saturday. This photograph was taken last week during the Warriors' victory over Belleville East.

Parker, Ballew among Peru State awardees

PERU — A total of 53 players on Peru State's football team who finished the 1984 season with a 4-4 record, have been awarded varsity letters, according to head coach Jay Adcox.

Among the list of '84 lettermen are 28 offensive players and 25 defensive, including 12 seniors who closed out their careers this fall.

Eight juniors also earned varsity letters along with 13 sophomores and 20 freshmen.

Among those awardees are Granite City's Jeff Parker and Paul Ballew. Parker is a senior on the squad while Ballew is a lettering freshman.

Seniors who earned their fourth letter include: Greg Conn, DeWitt; Kelly Juhl, Irwin, Jowi, Al Carothers, Stanton; Jeff George, Tampa, Fla.; Todd Ross, Syracuse; David Pasley, Tampa, Fla.; Joe LaRosa, Lawrence, Mass.; and Todd Halvorsen, Palmyra.

Juniors receiving their third letter include: Earnest Hayes, Riverview, Fla.; Kevin Hixon, Omaha; Mike Monroe, Tampa, Fla.; Fred Lee, Plant City, Fla.; Pat Mertens, Lincoln; and Jim Krawiec, Hoskins.

Adcox said that senior Mark Smith (Falls City) and junior running back Tom Rush (Bellevue) didn't receive a letter because both red-shirted.

The Bobcats will have 40 returning lettermen to take part in spring football drills that open in April.

International sports SFF to exchange programs host indoor tournament

SPORT FOR UNDERSTANDING, a non-profit international sports exchange program, is currently forming 37 teams in different sports to play in Europe, Asia and Latin America next summer.

Players ages 14-19 need only to have average of better athletic ability and can sign up in any of the following sports:

Basketball, cross country, diving, field hockey, golf, ice hockey, judo, skiing, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis, track, volleyball and water polo.

All team programs are four weeks in duration and each team is accompanied by a coach.

Interested coaches and players should write to SFU Dept. 101, 3501 Newark Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20016.

GRANITE CITY — When the weather outside gets too bad for sports, people inevitably take their activities indoors.

And, although many teams play indoor soccer throughout the year, eight highly successful outdoor teams will come indoors Jan. 4 and 5 to compete in the Budweiser Collegiate Invitational Indoor Soccer Tournament.

According to Fred Johnston, manager of Soccer For Fun, the indoor soccer facility located in Pontoon Beach on Highway 111, eight of the best university, college and junior college soccer teams in the Midwest will meet in head-to-head competition Jan. 4 and 5 at the complex.

Those colleges seeing action will be Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Creighton, Rockhurst and the University of Evansville. The junior colleges competing will be Florissant Valley, Forest Park, Meramec and Lewis and Clark.

The tournament will begin on Friday at 6 p.m. and continue for four hours before resuming on Saturday at noon.

The consolation championship is scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday, prior to the championship contest which begins at 8 p.m.

For Deer Record harvest

SPRINGFIELD — An unofficial estimate indicates Illinois deer hunters bagged 7,968 deer during the second half of the 1984 split-season for a total record harvest of 28,932, according to Forrest Loomis, Department of Conservation forest game biologist.

The additional 2,814 harvested deer represents a 10.8 percent increase from the previous year, Loomis reported. The increased harvest basically reflected the pre-season forecast. Generally good weather across the state assisted hunters in posting the record harvest, he said.

One unusual development during the second half of the split-season was that Sunday turned out to be a very good hunting day in most counties. Loomis noted that in past seasons the last day of deer season has usually been characterized by a low harvest.

Several factors are involved, he said. These include the fact that there are fewer hunters out in the woods on the last day of the second season, and that the remaining deer are much warier after being hunted for three straight days. There was no readily apparent explanation why these factors didn't apply this season, Loomis said.

Pike was the most productive county with 1,311 deer harvested. Adams County recorded a 1,057 harvest, followed by Jo Daviess with 1,021 and Pope with 1,003. Jackson posted a 786 deer harvest.

Other counties with large harvests included: Hancock County, 726; Brown County, 697; Union County, 592; Carroll County, 591; Fulton County, 584; Schuyler County, 507; Randolph County, 503; Mercer County, 485; Johnson County, 485; Williamson County, 475; Knox County, 469; Monroe County, 452; Ogle County, 451; Fayette County, 442; and Perry County, 431.

During the second season, Conservation Police Officers issued 453 citations and 176 warnings. This is in addition to 529 citations and 399 warnings issued during the first phase of the split-season.

Violations during the season ranged from hunting without a license and wearing improper hunting clothing to transporting untagged deer and hunting with a rifle. The arrest rate closely paralleled previous years.

The second part of the 1984 season was marred by one hunting fatality in Calhoun County. Calhoun County Sheriff's Deputy Richard Meyer reports that Mark Kamp, 23, of Godfrey, and a former Calhoun County resident, was accidentally shot east of Bathtown at approximately 9:15 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 8.

The victim was rushed by ambulance to the Jersey County Hospital in Jerseyville where he died shortly after arrival. The Jersey County Coroner's report indicated that Kamp was struck by a ricocheting shotgun slug, apparently fired by Kamp's 15-year-old hunting companion.

The Calhoun County incident was the second hunting fatality this year. Loomis stated. In the first half of the split-season a hunter was killed in Schuyler County after being shot by a hunting partner. The slug had passed through a deer's neck before striking the victim, Loomis said.

New scholarship funds to help agriculture students

Three new scholarship funds will allow up to $8,000 to be shared each year by 10 students who want to study agriculture at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

The scholarships, sponsored by private foundations and the state of Illinois, are part of more than $20,000 in awards to reward academic excellence and encourage students to develop leadership skills at SIU. They are intended to attract students from both urban and rural backgrounds into agricultural sciences.

THE LARGEST of the new scholarship programs is sponsored by the Illinois Department of Agriculture, which has donated $5,000 to SIU.

Five students who transfer to the SIU School of Agriculture with associate degrees from Illinois community colleges will each be given $1,000. Winners will be required to have farm backgrounds.

"It is vital to the agricultural community of Illinois to encourage and obtain the highest level of scholastic achievement in agricultural related subjects," state agriculture director Larry Werries said in a written agreement with SIU.

THE SOUTHERN Illinois university School of Agriculture is in a unique position to encourage and promote leadership in Illinois agriculture through its educational programs and opportunities," he said.

Four more scholarships will be offered as part of the Walter J. Willis Endowment Fund administered by the SIU Foundation, a private, non-profit organization.

Willis, a retired professor of agribusiness economics and assistant dean of agriculture at SIU, established the scholarship fund to encourage top students to study agricultural economics and rural development.

SIZES OF THE scholarships will depend upon the size of the endowment, but foundation spokespersons say they expect to award four scholarships of $500 each. The foundation said it will accept tax deductible contributions to the fund.

Each scholarship is named for a relative of Willis.

—The Billie Willis Endowed Award in Agribusiness Economics will be given to a freshman in agribusiness economics "from a rural area."

—The Daisy Marks Endowed Scholarship in Agribusiness Economics will be given to a student who transfers to SIU from an Illinois community college to study agricultural economics.

—The Martha Willis Endowed Award in Cooperative Management will go to a senior or junior in agribusiness economics who has an interest in cooperatives.

—The Walter Willis Endowed Award in Economic Development will be given to a junior or senior foreign student with an interest in rural development in developing countries.

A 1,000 scholarship also is offered by the Hubbard Farm Charitable Foundation, of Walpole, N.H. It will go to an animal science senior studying poultry science.

THE SIU School of Agriculture is one of two comprehensive agriculture colleges in Illinois. It offers programs of study in forestry, recreation, agronomy, soils, horticulture, agricultural economics, agricultural education, agricultural mechanization, agricultural information, animal science, pre-veterinary science and food and nutrition.

sant cantata "Dein Wachstum ist feste und lache vor Lust," followed by the recitative "Mein Wandel der Welt" and the aria "Ach! Immer ein" (Cantata No. 56).

HANDEL WORKS will include two alternating recitatives and aria, and a trio: "Whither Fairest, art Thou Running?"; "Cease to Beauty to be Singing"; "O Gase, Thou Gathe the Youth"; and "The Flocks Shall Leave the Mountains" (Aeas and Galeata). The section will conclude with the duet "The Lord is a Man of War" (Israel in Egypt).

After an intermission, Van Camp will perform an operatic aria, Bizet's "Quand je le Flamme de l'amour," from "La Jolie Fille de Perth." There will be three dialogue duets: Brahms' "Tritt Auf," Schumann's "Ich bin ein Baum," and an English Folk song, "Strawberry Fair," arranged by Christopher Brown.

The concert will conclude with excerpts from Victor Herbert's opera "The Red Mill"; "The Isle of Our Dreams"; "Moonbeams Shining"; "Because You're Young"; "Every Day is Lady's Day With Me"; and "In Old New York."

Gary Holtkamp, 3 Lily Court, alleged to police that his auto was struck from the rear while in the left turn lane of Pontoon Road at Nameoki Road, heading west.

Fisher, who was allegedly driving the second car involved, was seated in a parked car at a service station adjacent to the scene of the mishap when an officer arrived.

He was asked to take a breathalyzer test, but reportedly declined and was charged. Later, Fisher was released upon posting a $102 cash bond and his driver's license.

Dr. Green retires after 38 years in dentistry

Dr. Curtis Green has announced that he is retiring from the field of dentistry after 38 years in practice. Dr. Green, who has an office at 1365 Niedringhaus Ave., will end his practice on Dec. 31.

"I'd like to thank my patients who have been with me for the past 38 years," he commented.

DAMAGE IS ALLEGED

Wade B. Whitford, 23, of 2404 Dewey Ave., was arrested earlier this month at an apartment in the 3500 block of Kirkpatrick Homes and charged with criminal damage to property. It was alleged he was yelling and beating on a storm window demanding entry, which resulted in the window being broken.

Driver hurt when car hits vehicles

Cecelia M. Sieber, 27, of 3801 Village Lane, was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was admitted early this week, following an accident in which two parked cars were struck.

At the hospital, she allegedly declined to take a blood alcohol test or provide further information and was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and with not having a valid driver's license.

Reports said that Mrs. Sieber was driving north in the 2500 block of Washington Avenue when her car crossed into the southbound lanes and struck the auto of Carolyn Mih, 2555 Washington Ave., knocking that vehicle into the front of another auto belonging to Amy Wallace, 2409 Hodges Ave., also parked at that address.

The Sieber and Mih cars continued moving into the front yard of the Mih residence, where they came to a halt.

ARRESTED ON WARRANT

After he was taken into custody by a Pontoon Beach officer during the weekend, Johnny R. Dukes, 24, of 3901 Gaslight Walk, Pontoon Beach, was transferred to Granite City police custody at Maryville and Pontoon roads on an active warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a charge of trespassing.

CHRISTMAS CARD DEBATE. Members of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades at St. Margaret Mary School present the play, "The Greatest Christmas Card in the Whole Wide World," last week. The play centers around a typical American family trying to select the perfect Christmas card to send to their relatives and friends. One suggestion, a card with kings, is portrayed here. Other suggestions included Santa Claus, angels, shepherds, carolers and the eventual selection, a manger scene, the true meaning of Christmas.

Farmers here eligible for disaster aid

Governor James R. Thompson has announced that 16 Illinois counties have been declared federal disaster areas by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Farmers in those counties are among many in Illinois which sustained losses due to drought during the 1984 crop year. Adjacent counties, including Madison and St. Clair counties, also are eligible for disaster aid.

"I am pleased approval for these counties came in such a timely manner," the governor said. "As a result of legislation passed by Congress last spring, farmers in 18 counties contiguous to the 16 disaster counties will also be eligible for immediate assistance through the Farmers Home Administration."

Legislation passed by Congress last April contains "contiguous county" language, correcting what was considered to be a flaw in past financial assistance procedures. Prior to passage of the new financial assistance package, a farmer could be denied relief from the impact of the same disaster as a neighbor simply because his farm was located in a county which did not suffer the same degree of damage countywide.

Those counties declared federal disaster areas due to drought are Bond, Clark, Clay, Clinton, Crawford, Effingham, Fayette, Jackson, Jefferson, Lawrence, Marion, Randolph, Richland, Shelby, Washington and Wayne. Those counties listed as contiguous to the disaster counties and also eligible to apply for the same relief are Coles, Cumberland, Edgar, Edwards, Franklin, Hamilton, Jasper, Madison, Macon, Monroe, Montgomery, Moultrie, Perry, St. Clair, Union, Wabash, White and Williamson.

The federal disaster declaration enables farmers in those counties or contiguous counties to apply for low-interest loans through the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA). To be eligible, a farmer must prove a 30 percent production loss based on the best four of the past five crop years.

Eligible farmers may apply for low-interest loans up to the amount of the loss. A farmer who is unable to obtain credit through normal lending sources can obtain a loan at 5 percent interest up to $100,000 and 8 percent interest for amounts exceeding $100,000, up to the allowable maximum of $500,000.

Eligible farmers who are able to obtain credit through normal lending institutions, but chose to use FmHA, may receive a disaster loan in the amount of their proven loss up to $500,000 at an interest rate of 13 1/2 percent.

Thompson requested Secretary of Agriculture John Block to consider Illinois counties for disaster declaration (60 for drought, one for hail and three for wind damage) in November. A ruling on the 24 remaining counties damaged by drought and those suffering wind and hail damage is pending.

Fine distribution for November announced

Madison County Circuit Court Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell has announced that $149,387 in court fines was distributed in November to area receiving agencies.

Of that amount, Granite City received $12,442, Madison received $1,828, Venice received $3,757 and Pontoon Beach received $434.

WOMAN IS INJURED AT WARREN AND WILSON

Patricia Barker, 2666 Edwards St., sustained an injury when apparently struck by an auto late last week at Warren and Wilson avenues. She was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Miss Barker alleged being struck by a vehicle driven by Richard A. Grady, 21, of 2940 Marshall Ave., when she walked into Warren Avenue, near Wilson Avenue. She was treated at the hospital and was released.

New rules on kerosene use

Emergency rules have been instituted to allow an increase in the storage of kerosene and to assure safety in the storage, sale and dispensing of the fuel.

"The modifications," Harold Schneisli, State Fire Marshal, said, "are amendments to existing rules. They will be in effect for 150 days from Dec. 7, at which time we propose to have permanent adoption."

THE MAIN changes concern the amount of volatile fuels that may be kept on hand, storage capacity, color-coding of containers, spring-loaded nozzles and spigots and correct fuel usage.

Other changes concern more detailed safety precautions in handling, storage and dispensing of kerosene; such as, assurance that containers and pump meet testing agency standards, size of nozzles and tank opening, thickness of tank metal, distance stored from other buildings and materials and a prohibition against anyone but a service station owner or employee dispensing fuel.

Specifically, the amount of fuel that may be kept on hand for personal or private use has been increased to two, six-gallon containers from the former five-gallon limitation. However, there are prohibitions on where these containers may be stored including any cellars, basement or pits.

Flammable and combustible materials stored in above-ground containers are increased to 60 to 250 gallons on farms, from the former 60 to 550 gallons. Specifications apply to distances from other buildings and as to the construction of the containers.

ALL KEROSENE must be stored and carried in blue containers with the word "Kerosene" in contrasting colors, 2 inches or 3 inches high, depending on the container used.

All dispensing nozzles or spigots must be spring loaded so as to return to the off position when pressure is stopped, and pressure is constantly required to cause the release of the kerosene.

A spokesman for the Granite City Fire Department said regulations on proper containers for gasoline and kerosene are very important because some persons have used the wrong containers and fires have resulted from gasoline being poured into kerosene heaters.

Area taxpayers owed refunds

The Internal Revenue Service has more than $100,000 in refund checks waiting to be claimed by more than 400 Springfield District taxpayers. Among those listed as residing in the Quad-City area.

The unclaimed refunds range from $25 to $5,300, according to Springfield District Director Ira Leeb. He adds that the most common reason for the unclaimed refund checks is that many taxpayers moved and left no forwarding address with the post office. Taxpayers also may marry and change their name and address, or file a tax return containing incorrect information on the mailing label.

People contacting the IRS should be prepared to provide the name and address as it appeared on the return, the actual name and address (if different), the Social Security number and the type of form filed.

Taxpayers whose names appear on the following list are being encouraged to call the IRS as soon as possible. The IRS switchboard is open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. Taxpayers can call toll-free by dialing 1-800-424-1040. A tax assistant will advise the person of the procedures for claiming the refund check.

Andrew L. and Mary Jones of Venice also are on the list of those due refund checks.

TWO INJURED IN VENICE CAR CRASH

Dennis M. Doyle, 32, and Donald H. Gaston, 57, both of St. Louis, were injured when their cars collided at the intersection of Route 3 and Broadway in Venice last week. Police were unable to get statements from the motorists involved, since both were taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center by ambulance. Doyle, however, was charged with driving too fast for conditions.

Taught by registered nurses from the SEMC Obstetrics Department, classes include Early Pregnancy, Childbirth Preparation, Transition to Parenthood and Infant CPR.
2. MATERNITY GUARANTEED RATE PROGRAM Approximately 30 percent less than a conventional maternity plan, the Maternity Guaranteed Rate Program provides prospective parents with advanced knowledge regarding financial liability and allows them to pay delivery costs before the baby's arrival. Depending on which plan you choose, mothers can expect only a 2 or 3-day hospital stay.
3. BIRTHING ROOM SEMC's new Birthing Room allows parents to share the birthing process with their family in a comfortable environment. The Birthing Room, located adjacent to the conventional labor and delivery rooms and is staffed with two registered nurses.

With the Rooming-In Program, babies are allowed to stay in the room with their mothers from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Fathers may visit or stay from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. A bassinets and all items necessary for care of the baby are provided. Supervision and assistance by the nursery registered nurses is always available.
5. FATHER'S HOUR During normal visiting hours the baby is not in the mother's room. Therefore, an extension of the visiting hours has been set aside from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m. when the father will have an opportunity to hold and/or feed the baby.
6. THE STORK CLUB Every new mother is a charter member of SEMC's Stork Club. Along with a guest, mothers dine from the special gourmet menu prepared just for Stork Club members only.
7. SEMC AND YOU The classes and services for expectant families are often the beginning of a lifelong relationship between the hospital, the physicians and the families in the community. All physicians are board certified, and compared to other area hospitals, SEMC is centrally located and just minutes from any Metro-East city.

Coro Foundation offers training for seniors

The Coro Foundation, a national, non-partisan institute for public affairs training, announced that recruitment is underway for their third annual Reinvest program. The deadline for applications for the Reinvest program is Feb. 1, 1985. The program begins on March 25 and ends on May 30.

The Reinvest program provides an opportunity for senior professionals and civil servants who are in or are approaching retirement to systematically train for leadership roles in public, civic and community affairs. Through participation in the Reinvest program, persons will gain a deeper insight into their post-retirement options.

Twelve to 15 individuals will be selected to participate in the 10-week program. The program is full time, three days on assignment plus one day in seminar.

The program consists of a series of exploratory field assignments in government, community and private agencies. Weekly seminars, designed to strengthen participants' analytical, communication and interpersonal skills, also are conducted.

Tuition is $350. This fee may be paid by the participant, the participant's employer or any combination thereof. Also, tuition assistance is available. For more information about the program, individuals may contact Laverne Morrow or Joy Lieberman at 1-314-531-1500.

Raises voted for GC city officials

By SUSAN SIGNAGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

Granite City aldermen approved a motion at the city council meeting last night which will raise the salaries for the offices of mayor, city clerk and city treasurer by 20 percent over the next four years.

The recommendations were brought in by an ad hoc committee set up to review the salaries of all city officials involved in the April 1985 election. The salaries for these offices have not been increased for the past four years.

According to Alderman Paul Fisk, a member of the committee, the reason for the increase is due in part to the salary ranking of these officials. Currently there are 14 city employees who are paid more than the mayor and there are 60 employees who are paid more than the clerk and treasurer. These employees include policemen, firemen and sewage treatment plant workers.

The mayor's current salary is $28,000. In addition to this, he is given a car allowance and an expense account which amounts to $250 a month. He also is paid $1,000 per year for his duties as the city liquor commissioner.

With the first increase, the mayor's salary ranking will raise to the fifth highest paid position in the city. His pay will increase to $30,800 in May of 1985 and to $33,600 in May of 1987. The mayor will still receive the car and expense money and will continue to act as liquor commissioner.

THE CITY CLERK and treasurer each will receive a 10 percent increase in both May of 1985 and May of 1987.

Both officials currently receive a salary of $25,000. Neither of the officials receive any expense or car allowances.

Under the proposal, their pay will be increased to $27,500 in 1985 and $30,000 in 1987. This will move their rankings to 22nd and 23rd among city employees.

ALDERMAN FISK said that the committee researched the salaries of the officials in the cities of Collinsville, Alton and Belleville, before making a proposal.

According to the committee's findings, the mayor of Alton will be paid $40,000 beginning in May of 1985 and $43,000 beginning in May of 1987. The city clerk and treasurer in that town will be earning $30,000 in 1985-86 and $33,000 in 1987-88. None of these officials receive expense money.

The mayor of Belleville is paid $29,000 and the clerk and treasurer in that city earn $27,000. The mayor of Belleville is also paid a travel allowance.

IN COLLINSVILLE, the mayor is paid $10,200 for his part-time position, the clerk is paid $31,500 and the treasurer is paid $26,000.

The only one present who voted against the motion for pay increases was Paul Ray Bowler. Bowler, a candidate for mayor, said he feels the increases should not be made since the city is "just now getting out of its financial crisis."

The ad hoc committee still has to review the salary of the township assessor. The position currently pays $25,000 per year.

THERE WILL BE no salary increases proposed for the aldermen.

Fisk said his committee hopes to have the salaries set up for the various offices by the Jan. 14 filing deadline.

GC Investigating child abuse case

Granite City police are continuing today to investigate a case in which injuries were suffered by a 14-month-old toddler, who was initially treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 12:05 a.m. Tuesday.

The child later was transferred to Cardinal Glennon Memorial Hospital for Children in St. Louis. Her condition today is considered good, according to a hospital spokesman.

The Illinois Department of Children and Family Services were advised and also are assisting in the investigation.

A Granite City man was being questioned about the incident Wednesday and remained in custody today, pending application to the Madison County state's attorney's office for a warrant. It was learned.

Officers were at SEMC on another matter when medical personnel alerted them to the possibility of child abuse after examining the injuries to small girl.

The mother brought the child to the hospital for treatment of the injuries, which she believed were caused by the infant falling and hitting her head on a coffee table, she told police. She also said the mishap occurred between 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Apparent injuries were noted on both sides of the child's head, it was learned.

Fire damage

The Press-Record received a leg injury in a fall.

Russell G. Shaver, 71, of 2051 Rhodes St., Madison, suffered a chin injury at 2:25 p.m. when he tripped and fell while walking across a Nameoki Road traffic median at Jill Avenue.

AUTHORITIES SAID the blaze was able to spread quickly due to the flammable nature of store contents, the presence of an attic area that connected sections of the long building, and the brisk wind from the south (which saved stores in the smaller Bellemore Village building located immediately south of Reese's).

The first alarm was at 1:10 p.m. yesterday and the initial police log entry contained two unlucky 13's. It read 1313 in the 24-hour record of Dec. 26 activity.

Evacuation of stores was a key priority, and traffic barricades then were set up at a variety of locations surrounding the block-long commercial district.

AN AERIAL fire truck was summoned at 1:40 and Madison firemen were called at 1:45. The afternoon-evening police shift was brought in early, and daytime officers remained on duty until mid-evening.

Long Lake firemen responded at 1:55. By 2 p.m. Wednesday, the holiday-decorated drug store was in ruins and the fire had spread to the Dollar General Store.

A call went out at 2:15 for more oxygen bottles to aid those coughing from the smoke, which for a time obscured Nameoki Road. Later in the afternoon, Bubblemasters Club scuba drivers further replenished firemen's oxygen supply.

By 2:35, the Salvation Army was preparing to serve sandwiches and coffee to those battling the near-inferno.

A PROBLEM at 2:45 involved some motorists driving across water hose on Carlson, Jill and Myrtle avenues.

Water company representatives went to the scene to assist in chores related to utility lines.

A potential hazard failed to deter the firemen from their work. A parked auto in front of the Reese store was so close to the fire that some feared its gasoline tank might explode.

First reports of the fire mentioned a possible explosion in one of the stores, but it is now thought there was no explosion.

With the fire vicinity blocked to vehicles, congestion developed on the nearby streets that were utilized as traffic corridors.

ON FEHLING ROAD 500 feet west of Nameoki Road at 2 p.m. Wednesday, Robert Hartenbach of Spring, Texas, halted his car due to traffic. Its rear tire carrier was struck by the front of the auto of Edward LaCelle, Collinsville Rural Route Three.

Three westbound autos were damaged at 2:35 p.m. on Febling Road one-fifth mile west of Nameoki Road. The front of the car of Lisa Payne, 2221 Benton St., hit the rear of the auto of Thomas Krinski, 3309 Franklin Ave., pushing that vehicle against the rear of the car of Mary Tarpoff, 1609 Clark Ave.

Police were still directing traffic at 7:40 p.m. and motioned for northbound George Funk, Fairview Heights, to turn left from Nameoki Road onto a store parking lot at Iowa Street. A southbound motorist, Michael Howland, 1108 Kirkpatrick Homes, failed to see the traffic officer and the two autos collided, receiving front end damage.

NEW POST. Nancy Stanfill of St. Louis has been appointed director of the public relations division of Stolz Advertising Company in Clayton, Mo. She is a 1969 graduate of Granite City High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney C. Vaughn and the granddaughter of Geneva Hall, all of Granite City.

LOOT PICKUP TRUCK

A grey tool box containing assorted mechanic's tools, a battery and the gas cap were stolen from a pickup truck belonging to James Miller, 2234 Missouri Ave., he reported at 12:55 p.m. Tuesday.

Venice man recovers his stolen auto

A Venice man recovered his stolen car at 11:30 p.m. Christmas Day after two of his sons spotted a man driving the auto on Route 3.

Titus Shipp of 1122 College St.,

Venice, told police that his 1978 Pontiac Gran Prix had been stolen earlier in the year in East St. Louis.

He said he and his two sons were driving south through Brooklyn when they spotted his car traveling north. Shipp pursued the auto and when it came to a stop on Klein Street, he opened the driver's door of the auto and grabbed the man inside. The man stepped on the gas pedal of the car, however, causing Shipp to release his hold on him.

The driver lost control of the vehicle in the 1200 block of Klein Street and it came to rest in the front yard of a residence on that street.

The man then fled on foot through the rear of the yard and then north up the alley.

The man driving the car is described as black, 6-foot tall, with curly hair and having a burn mark or a big mole on his left cheek.

Police are searching for the man. The car was found to have a damaged steering column.

Man hurt in mishap on Madison Avenue

In an accident in the 2600 block of Madison Avenue at 11:55 a.m. Monday, Paul E. Shuppert Sr., 63, of 658 Chouteau Ave., Mitchell, sustained injuries and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

Ivory J. Reed, 74, of East St. Louis, told police he was heading south on Madison Avenue when a northbound vehicle in the inside lane stopped to allow him to make a left turn into Harde's Restaurant parking area at 2642 Madison Ave.

Shuppert, also heading north, saw the car stopped in front of him and went into the curb lane, where the collision occurred with the Reed vehicle, reports said.
